

Selly Manor

1st November 2016

On Tuesday 2nd November, we went to Selly Manor. Selly Manor is a Tudor Museum.

We were able to see how the Tudors lived, what kind of furniture they had and what types of food they ate. We saw what a living room, kitchen, bedroom and servant rooms would have looked like. It was very interesting! There was a difference in houses and food for the rich and the poor.

Towards the end we were able to try on armour that was worn in those times. It was very heavy! The girls wore bonnets and long dresses with aprons. The boys wore waistcoats with a hat. Then we played Tudor games such as juggling, spinning tops, marbles and bowling.

Selly Manor was about the Tudors. One interesting fact is that the Tudors used to wash their bodies with animal wee. Henry VIII had 6 wives, only one survived. I liked the bit when we went in the bedroom. A lady called Mary talked to us about the Tudors and about what they used to eat. We also got to dress up as Tudors and play lot of Tudor games. When we went to the shop, I bought a rat and scared Ms. Hafiza. I had a lot of fun when Bareera and I went through a maze and Ms. Yasmin took our picture. I really liked our lunchtime. The kitchen was really funny because there was a head of a wild boar on the dining table without a body.
